

Yoshimi-machi - Experience history and natural beauty

Yoshimi-machi is located near the center of Saitama prefecture, about 50 kilometers from the heart of Tokyo.

The proximity to the Arakawa River and Ichinokawa River makes this a fertile area for producing grains. The hills to the West are designated the Prefectural Hiki Hills Natural Park.

The region is rich with cultural assets, including the nationally well-known Yoshimi Hyakuana and Matsuyama Castle Ruins, which was designated a National Historic Site in 2008. In addition, Yoshimi-machi takes pride in being the biggest producer in the prefecture of Yoshimi strawberries, and during the season, you can experience strawberry picking.

With a 26-kilometer cycling course and 12 selected tour routes, Yoshimi's history, nature, flowers, and more can be enjoyed year-round.
